> NASSVILLE, TENN., August 2, 1879. D. Langstaff, President of the Howards: DEAR SIR-I see from the daily pape that the disease is increasing very slowly in our city, from which fact I judge you are not in want of physicians at present, but if there mes a need, I am at your service. Since he breaking out of the fever I have been at Bon Aqua, for the past two weeks with Lieu tenant Dowdy, whom I was jagain called to om this place yesterday. He is now on the coad to convalescence. of recurring yellow-fever. Those of our citizens abroad and those at home must discuss and arrive at conclusions, what shall be done in the coming autumn and winter. The plans must be perfected this summer, or in the early fall, so that we can furnish something to relieve us before another summer. As there are doubtless a large number of our people in the city of New York, and many places, such as St. Louis, Louisville, Nashville and Clarksville, they should get ogether at once, without any unnecessary lelay, and if possible agree upon something to be done and find the mode of payment. It has to be done, and that without delay, or the business of Memphis will be absorbed by St. Louis. This city is too well located to be ruined from the want of enterprise on the part of her merchants and property holders, By former negligence, they have allowed St. Louis to take a large share of her trade. they do not now arise in their might and do something adequate, she will be utterly ruined. This being so, it would be preferred of course to the Mississippi river water. This, at least, should be deliberately considered, for the water we now have is questionable as to its purity whatever any professed chemist of Memphis may have affirmed. What I have written on the third resolution covers all there is in the fourth. These resolutions and the thoughts thereon, Messrs. AN EXPLANATION. EDITORS APPRAL-I noticed in your issue of the seventeenth or eighteenth ultimo, or thereabouts, an inquiry from the mayor of Corinth, in which he states in language similar to this: "A gentleman reporting to me directly from Memphis, states as knowing positively that Mrs. Moore, residing on Ellictt street, was sick with yellow-fever, and that this case has not been reported to the board of health. I wish to know if you can-not officially deny the above?" To which Dr. Saunders replied: "Your informant has told a falsehood. Mrs. Moore is a patient of mine, and is about well of a slight attack of intermittent fever." The APPEAL heads this "Another Lie Nailed," and the Ledger "A Wild Tale-Bearer." Not having the APPEAL may not have given the exact language. I suppose I am the one whom the APPEAL, Dr. Saunders and the Ledger denounce as a "liar" and a "wild tale-bearer." The facts are simply these: Mrs. Moore is a member of my church, and a very worthy one. On Monday, the fourteenth instant, I was in the act of starting to Baldwin, Mississippi, to see my wife, who is in a low stage of consumption. An hour or two before starting I learned that Mrs. Moore was quite sick, and her sickness was thought to be yellow-fever. I called immediately to see her. I was told by a member of the family that Mrs. Moore had the yellow-fever, and asked if I was not afraid to go in to see her. I replied that I was not. As soon as I walked into the room Mrs. Moore scolded me for coming to see her; said she did not think I should have exposed myself to dis-ease by coming to see her. I talked with her a little while and held prayers with her. When I started, Mrs. Hatch, a sister in-law, walked with me to the front door. I aske her if they were sure that Mrs. Moore had the fever. She said that Dr. Saundars had so pronounced it. When I got to Corinth next morning, I was asked by some frieads what I knew about the fever. I said that I had seen but one case, that I visited the night before; that Dr. Saunders said it was yellowfever, and he ought to know, at the same time giving the name and place of residence. One would suppose from the mayor's ianguage that he had his report from me per sonally, whereas I never saw the mayor of Corinth in my life, and never said that I knew positively as to the facts related.

would not know a case of yellow-fever were of intermittent fever, for she had a very high fever the night I was there and Dr. Saunders was using very vigorous treatment. A private letter from Memphis informs me that Mr. Moore and his whole family have been down with the disease. Did Dr. Saunders pronounce it intermittent fever? Let the APPRAL and the Ledger be better informed before they apply to a man unknown to them such opprobrious epithets. Will you do me the justice to insert the above. Respectfully, J. C. HOOK.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Third Class. EDITORS APPEAL-In the Nashville American, of the first instant, is published an in-No. SO Court street, Memphis.

The larger proportion of the best people of both colors had left Memphis, and only what might be termed the third class still remained. Now, that the doctor is at home, will you please ask him to rise and explain what he means by the term third class? When we look around and see the best and bravest, although poor and humbly clad, doing all in their power for suffering humanity, without the aid of either the National or local boards of health, Howards or city government, following their honorable avocations in life, and taking good care of the property of their refugeeing employers, it ill becomes a doctor holding such high pogaage that the good people remaining are only third-class, or, in other words, not worthy the sympathy of the outside world. Let him rise and explain, or receive a firstclass condemnation from the people who still remain in Memphis, attending to their own business, nor stopping to underrate their less fortunate fellow-men.

OF BLACKBERRY ROOT. It is almost needless to say that this preparation, for an effectual and certain cure for Dysentery, Acute and Chronic Diarrhoa, Flux, and all kindred diseases, far excels any other known remedy. It not only cures the disease, but strengthens the intestinal organs and invigorates the entire system. We do not claim it to cure every thing, but we guarantee it to cure the diseases we name above. For children it has no equal, being both mild and safe in its effects; and for females it is the best strengthener and appetizer known. Can be taken at all times with perfect safety.
